300 VENDING MACHINES TAKEN; WAR IS HINTED

Action Is Safeguard Against Gunmen Deeds, "Company" Agent Says

Trouble At Deep Lake
Sunday Night Regarded As Cue

HOLDUP IS STAGED

Three hundred slot machines were removed from Lake county resort inns, roadhouses, restaurants, pool-rooms, and barber shops Wednesday and Wednesday night. Ten were taken in Antioch.

The machines were taken by various agents of the concern owning the machines, the action following the theft of 13 such contrivances by Chicago gunmen at two Deep Lake resorts Sunday night.

D. C. Parks, vending machine agent, when removing the machines from Fox Lake business houses last night, stated that the action was merely a safeguard against trouble.

May Be Old Trick

"Chicago gangsters," he said, "have evidently decided they'll follow the same policy in this region that they did in Chicago several years ago."

The "policy" referred to by Mr. Parks was regarding the time gangsters went to business places in Chicago, removed machines that had been used for some time, and installed machines of their own.

If gunmen had intended replacing the Mills machines which have been in operation throughout this district, with other vending devices, they have been saved the trouble of removing the Mills machines. Mr. Parks stated that he and other agents had had orders from "headquarters" that not a machine should be left in operation.

Gum Sometimes Absent

Machines that gangsters would install, Mr. Parks explained, would be purely gambling machines, while the devices used by merchants in Antioch, Fox Lake, Lake Villa, and other communities should pay gum or mints as well as slugs or trade checks.

When informed that the "gum and mints" machines often are not supplied with these confections, Mr. Parks said the merchant was to

INVITE POLITICIANS TO NEXT MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN

Paddock, McDonough, and Lyons Are Asked Here
For Meeting

Invitations have been sent to State Senator Ray Paddock, and Representatives Lee McDonough and Richard J. Lyons to attend the next meeting of the Antioch Business club which is to be held at the Dressel House, Lake Villa, Monday night at 7 o'clock, standard time. R. C. Tomlinson, professor of speech at Lake Forest college, is to give the main address. The program committee is in charge of Otto Klass and John Horan.

If Mr. Paddock, Mr. Lyons and Mr. McDonough are able to be present they will give talks on legislative progress and its doings for the 1929 session.

A full report of the Outdoor show in Chicago is to be given Monday night. All business men of the community, as well as other interested persons, may attend the meeting.

Reservations should be made with J. C. James, secretary of the Business club. His telephone number is Antioch 46-J.

HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE; BARN IS DESTROYED

Antioch Firemen Answer
Call to Pikeville Friday
Night

Fire Saturday night destroyed a barn and its contents, belonging to August Lubkeman, Pikeville. Damage to the barn is estimated at $5,000 while contents of hay, grain, and machinery to the extent of $1,000 were destroyed. Three horses belonging to K. Rinke perished in the fire, and a fourth horse was so badly burned that it was necessary to kill it.

S. M. Tarbell, of the Antioch Fire department, stated that farmers should be prepared for fire and should see that water is ready at all times to fight blazes. Many times when firemen reach the scene of a fire, they are helpless and handicapped because there is no water, he said.

High School Youths Enter Grain Judging Meet At University

Twelve Antioch High school boys, accompanied by C. L. Kutt, instructor of agriculture, left today for the University of Illinois to enter the state judging contests. For six years the Antioch boys have received honors.

Lloyd Atwell, Jack Neahous, and William Nelson are on the fat stock team; Kenneth Donnan, Lloyd Barnstable, and Lewis Gallager, dairy team; Jasper McCormack and Charles Holmes, corn team; Ward Edwards and Harry Johnson, grain team; and Howard Mastine and Homer Edwards, poultry team.

The boys will return Saturday, but Mr. Kutt, with his family, will remain next week for the State Teachers' association conference.

Homer Edwards, who won honors for his school this winter by the story of his poultry project, will address the State Teachers' association.

SELECT PROPERTY FOR NEW LAUNDRY

Motor Sales Building To
Be Home of New
Industry

The proposed Chain O' Lakes laundry advanced one step nearer realization Tuesday when the way was cleared for the requirement of the new building erected by the Antioch Motor Sales in 1927. The equity held by the federal court pending the settlement of the bankruptcy proceedings following the failure of the Antioch Motor Sales, was cleared at 10 o'clock Tuesday and the original status of the property was restored to the mortgagees. Now all that remains is the adjustment of a few minor details regarding easement rights and the property will be formally transferred to a committee headed by Clarence D. Poth, appointed by sponsors of the proposed laundry to acquire the property.

Building is Ideal

The new building is ideal for a laundry and dry cleaning establishments say those who have made a study of the business and its requirements. More than 6,000 square feet of floor space will adequately house the modern equipment that will be installed. Water in abundance that has been analyzed and found to be the best in the state for laundry purposes, and means of getting rid of waste water, most important factors in a highly efficient laundry, make the location selected ideal.

Capital for Project Grows

The $50,000 capital required to get the new business into actual operation is being rapidly subscribed, mostly by people of the Chain O' Lakes region who believe that the soundness of the project lies in the fact that it is not an untried business.

Walking on Wings of Plane Traveling At Hundred Miles An Hour Is One Of Stunts Eddie Bounsall Does

Walking on the wings of an airplane going 100 miles an hour is as easy as eating ice cream for Eddie Bounsall, Antioch garage owner. Of course, anyone can say there's nothing to doing stunts on a plane traveling at a rapid rate of speed. Anyone can exclaim: "Ah, who wouldn't do that?"

But Eddie doesn't exclaim it or boast of it. He simply "up and does it." It's an old game for him. He used to it when he had a flying circus in Texas. Last Sunday afternoon he thrilled hundreds of persons by his daring antics in Waukegan.

It takes a lot to scare Eddie, but he readily admits that he had a thrill and a half Sunday.

An Oily Time

"Really, quite a shock," he said Monday night. "I feel the effects of it yet. I was scared twice. Once the crowd sensed my danger and recoiled a thrill. So do I. Once I saw the danger when the crowd didn't and believe me, thrill is no name for that scare."

Yet little did the crowd realize the danger Eddie was in when doing his landing gear performance. Part of

AUDITOR DECLARES FINANCIAL STATUS FAIR IN COUNTY

Says Operating Cost
Must Be Cut Down
This Year

REPORT IS COMPILED

Tax collectors paid into the county treasurer's office for the fiscal year, December 1, 1927 to December 1, 1928 amount to $5,437,626.95, according to the annual audit of all county departments just completed by County Auditor Samuel Sims.

The report of Auditor Sims covering all moneys received and expended in the various county departments was read to the board of supervisors. No specific recommendations as to retrenchment to save on operating expenses was made in the report.

In commenting on the report Mr. Sims admitted the financial condition in the county is only fair and stated that operating expenses must be cut down.

See Retrenchment Possible

At the conclusion of the reading of the report it was referred to the finance committee of which Supervisor Arthur Vercoe is chairman, with instructions to examine the audit closely and report back with recommendations as to a retrenchment.

JOSEPH HAYCOCK DIES AT AGE OF 88 YEARS; CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Lived In This Vicinity
Virtually All Of His Lifetime

In failing health for the last two years, Joseph Haycock, 88, died at his home at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial at Hickory.

venture and that every one can patronize it. One day laundry service, a convenience local people have never enjoyed, will come with the establishment of the business here.

Playing Slot Devices Fascinating Pastime Throughout County

Slot machines are taken as a matter of course in Lake county.

Slot machines have grown to be the means by which more than a passing pleasure is derived. Going by a restaurant or other place where there was a slot machine, one could always hear the click, tick, click, tick, of the coin dropping, the lever being pulled, and the slugs dropping down.

Playing the devices has a fascination for most persons. Once a person has started watching the fruit spin by, it is difficult to stop. Always one wonders if just one more nickel (or whatever the coin may be) won't bring the coveted three bars.

Figures Don't Lie

It is said that figured on a thousand plays, the nickel machine gives a person a chance to win one out of three, and on the same number of plays the quarter machine pays 18 to 20 per cent, a little less than one out of five.

A better break is given the nickel player to "kidd" him into buying the machine, so that in the long run he leaves his money just as he would with the quarter machine. Really, the only chance a person has is to throw a quarter in the machine, catch a lucky break, and walk out. If he stays, the machine gets the money.

RIOTING BREAKS OUT AT BOXING CONTEST; FANS DEMAND MONEY

Promoter Is Served Writ
of Attachment by Wau-
kegan Officer

FIGHTS CALLED OFF

Rioting broke out in Fox Lake Saturday night when 350 boxing fans attending fights rushed to the box office, and shouted for their money back when Stephen J. O'Connor, Chicago promoter of fights, skipped out of town when he was served a writ of attachment by Constable Francis Beckman, Waukegan.

There was a large advance sale of tickets and about $100 had been collected at the box office when Constable Beckman appeared on the scene and served the writ of attachment for $293. Beckman immediately entered the office and took charge of the sale of tickets.

Tries to Explain

A few minutes later O'Connor disappeared and one of his assistants climbed to the ring and announced the bouts were called off. A cry for money back immediately was sent up by the crowd. A mad rush started for the box office.

Beckman climbed to the running board of his car and explained that he was charged by the court to take the money with him and he could not give it to the fight fans.

A group of men started toward the constable with sticks and clubs, yelling to the crowd: "Come along, we'll get your money back for you."

Note Is Said Due

Constable Beckman drew his gun and the crowd backed away, started the engine of his automobile and drove off. Several cars filled with men were driven alongside Beckman's machine between Fox Lake and Libertyville and although threats were made no harm was done.

The writ of attachment was issued against O'Connor by Justice Wilfred E. Hall at the instance of Fannie M. Bratt and Florence I. McCurdy, Chicago, doing business as the Bratt Loan company of Chicago. O'Connor borrowed a sum of money from the loan company several months on a note which he never attempted to redeem, according to the complaint.

H. R. Adams Gives Land To Village Trustees

Acceptance of a parcel of land from H. R. Adams was the most important act of the Antioch village trustees at the meeting Thursday night.

The land given by Mr. Adams is at his lumber yard, adjacent to Corona avenue. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys, the committee being ordered to send an expression of appreciation to Mr. Adams, and to arrange for the removal of fences and any improvements that may be necessary.

L. O. Bright, Charles Wertz, and Homer LaPlant, of the Antioch High school civics department, were extended a vote of thanks for their labors in making a plat of the village and numbering the houses, the same to be used by the village.

A new roof will be placed on the village hall immediately.

A meeting is called for next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

300 VENDING MACHINES TAKEN; WAR IS HINTED

Action Is Safeguard Against Gunmen Deeds, "Company" Agent Says

Trouble At Deep Lake
Sunday Night Regarded As Cue

HOLDUP IS STAGED

Three hundred slot machines were removed from Lake county resort inns, roadhouses, restaurants, pool-rooms, and barber shops Wednesday and Wednesday night. Ten were taken in Antioch.

The machines were taken by various agents of the concern owning the machines, the action following the theft of 13 such contrivances by Chicago gunmen at two Deep Lake resorts Sunday night.

D. C. Parks, vending machine agent, when removing the machines from Fox Lake business houses last night, stated that the action was merely a safeguard against trouble.

May Be Old Trick
"Chicago gangsters," he said, "have evidently decided they'll follow the same policy in this region that they did in Chicago several years ago."

The "policy" referred to by Mr. Parks was regarding the time gangsters went to business places in Chicago, removed machines that had been used for some time, and installed machines of their own.

If gunmen had intended replacing the Mills machines which have been in operation throughout this district, with other vending devices, they have been saved the trouble of removing the Mills machines. Mr. Parks stated that he and other agents had had orders from "headquarters" that not a machine should be left in operation.

Gum Sometimes Absent
Machines that gangsters would install, Mr. Parks explained, would be purely gambling machines, while the devices used by merchants in Antioch, Fox Lake, Lake Villa, and other communities should pay gum or mints as well as slugs or trade checks.

When informed that the "gum and mints" machines often are not supplied with those confections, Mr. Parks said the merchant was to

HORSES ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN FIRE; BARN IS DESTROYED

Antioch Firemen Answer
Call to Pikeville Friday
Night

Fire Saturday night destroyed a barn and its contents, belonging to August Lubkenian, Pikeville.

Damages to the barn is estimated at $5,000, while contents of hay, grain, and machinery to the extent of $1,000 were destroyed. Three horses belonging to K. Rluke perished in the fire, and a fourth horse was so badly burned that it was necessary to kill it.

S. M. Tarbell, of the Antioch Fire department, stated that farmers should be prepared for fire and should see that water is ready at all times to fight blazes. Many times when firemen reach the scene of a fire, they are helpless and handicapped because there is no water, he said.

SELECT PROPERTY FOR NEW LAUNDRY

Motor Sales Building To
Be Home of New
Industry

The proposed Chain O' Lakes laundry advanced one step nearer realization Tuesday when the way was cleared for the acquisition of the new building erected by the Antioch Motor Sales in 1927. The equity held by the federal court pending the settlement of the bankruptcy proceedings following the failure of the Antioch Motor Sales, was cleared at 10 o'clock Tuesday and the original status of the property was restored to the mortgages. Now all that remains is the adjustment of a few minor details regarding easement rights and the property will be formally transferred to a committee headed by Clarence D. Foth, appointed by sponsors of the proposed laundry to acquire the property.

Building Is Ideal
The new building is ideal for a laundry and dry cleaning establishments say those who have made a study of the business and its requirements. More than 6,000 square feet of floor space will adequately house the modern equipment that will be installed. Water in abundance that has been analyzed and found to be the best in the state for laundry purposes, and means of getting rid of waste water, most important factors in a highly efficient laundry, make the location selected ideal.

Capital for Project Grows
The $50,000 capital required to get the new business into actual operation is being rapidly subscribed, mostly by people of the Chain O' Lakes region who believe that the soundness of the project lies in the fact that it is an untold business.

Walking on Wings of Plane Traveling At Hundred Miles An Hour Is One Of Stunts Eddie Bounsall Does

Walking on the wings of an airplane going 100 miles an hour is as easy as eating ice cream for Eddie Bounsall, Antioch garage owner. Of course, anyone can say there's nothing to doing stunts on a plane traveling at a rapid rate of speed. Anyone can exclaim: "Ah, who wouldn't do that?"

But Eddie doesn't exclaim it or boast of it. He simply "up and does it." It's an old game for him. He used to do it when he had a flying circus in Texas. Last Sunday afternoon he thrilled hundreds of persons by his daring antics in Waukegan.

It takes a lot to scare Eddie, but he readily admits that he had a thrill and a half Sunday.

"Really quite a shock," he said Monday night. "I feel the effects of it yet. I was scared twice. Once the crowd sensed my danger and roared a thrill. So do I. Once I saw the danger when the crowd didn't and believe me, thrill is no name for that scare."

Yet little did the crowd realize the danger Eddie was in when doing his landing gear performance. Part of

AUDITOR DECLARES FINANCIAL STATUS FAIR IN COUNTY

Says Operating Cost
Must Be Cut Down
This Year

REPORT IS COMPILED

Tax collectors paid into the county treasurer's office for the fiscal year, December 1, 1927 to December 1, 1928 amount to $5,437,626.95, according to the annual audit of all county departments just completed by County Auditor Samuel Sims.

The report of Auditor Sims covering all moneys received and expended in the various county departments was read to the board of supervisors. No specific recommendations as to retrenchment to save on operating expenses was made in the report.

In commenting on the report Mr. Sims admitted the financial condition in the county is only fair and stated that operating expenses must be cut down.

See Retrenchment Possible
At the conclusion of the reading of the report it was referred to the finance committee of which Supervisor Arthur Vercoe is chairman, with instructions to examine the audit closely and report back with recommendations as to a retrenchment. (Continued on page 5)

Playing Slot Devices Fascinating Pastime Throughout County

Slot machines are taken as a matter of course in Lake county.

Slot machines have grown to be the means by which more than a passing pleasure is derived. Going by a restaurant or other place where there was a slot machine, one could always hear the click, tick, click, tick, of the coin dropping, the lever being pulled, and the slugs dropping down.

Playing the devices has a fascination for most persons. Once a person has started watching the fruit spin by, it is difficult to stop. Always one wonders if just one more nickel (or whatever the coin may be) won't bringling the coveted three bars.

Figures Don't Lie

It is said that figured on a thousand plays, the nickel machine gives a person a chance to win one out of three, and on the same number of plays the quarter machine pays 15 to 20 per cent, a little less than one out of five.

A better break is given the nickel player to "kid" him into bucking the machine, so that in the long run he leaves his money just as he would with the quarter machine. Really, the only chance a person has is to throw a quarter in the machine, catch a lucky break, and walk out. If he stays, the machine gets the money.

RIOTING BREAKS OUT AT BOXING CONTEST; FANS DEMAND MONEY

Promoter Is Served Writ
of Attachment by Wau-
kegan Officer

FIGHTS CALLED OFF

Rioting broke out in Fox Lake Saturday night when 350 boxing fans attending fights rushed to the box office, and shouted for their money back when Stephen J. O'Connor, Chicago promoter of fights, skipped out of town when he was served a writ of attachment by Constable Francis Beckman, Waukegan.

There was a large advance sale of tickets and about $100 had been collected at the box office when Constable Beckman appeared on the scene and served the writ of attachment for $293. Beckman immediately entered the office and took charge of the sale of tickets.

Tries to Explain
A few minutes later O'Connor disappeared and one of his assistants climbed to the ring and announced the bouts were called off. A cry for money back immediately was sent up by the crowd. A mad rush started for the box office.

Beckman climbed to the running board of his car and explained that he was charged by the court to take the money with him and he could not give it to the fight fans.

A group of men started toward the constable with sticks and clubs, yelling to the crowd: "Come along, we'll get your money back for you."

Note Is Said Due

Constable Beckman drew his gun and the crowd backed away, started the engine of his automobile and drove off. Several cars filled with men were driven alongside. Beckman's machine between Fox Lake and Libertyville and although threats were made no harm was done.

The writ of attachment was issued against O'Connor by Justice Wilfred E. Hall at the instance of Fannie M. Britt and Florence I. McCurdy, Chicago, doing business as the Bratt Loan company of Chicago. O'Connor borrowed a sum of money from the loan company several months on a note which he never attempted to redeem, according to the complaint.

H. R. Adams Gives Land To Village Trustees

Acceptance of a parcel of land from H. R. Adams was the most important act of the Antioch village trustees at the meeting Thursday night.

The land given by Mr. Adams is at his lumber yard, adjacent to Corona avenue. The matter was referred to the committee on streets and alleys, the committee being ordered to send an expression of appreciation to Mr. Adams, and to arrange for the removal of fences and any improvements that may be necessary.

L. O. Bright, Charles Wertz, and Homer Elvick, of the Antioch High school civics department, were extended a vote of thanks for their labors in making a plat of the village and numbering the houses, the same to be used by the village.

A new roof will be placed on the village hall immediately.

A meeting is called for next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

Signs Of Life
At Lakes

Cottages and summer homes around Channel lake, Lake Marie, Grass lake, Cedar lake, and other lakes in the Chain O' Lakes region are beginning to show signs of life. During the last two weeks hundreds of persons have come from the south and from cities to spend the summer.

Windows that have been boarded are now thrown open. Doors nailed shut all winter now are unlocked, and screens are up. The clickety-click of the lawn mower is heard frequently, and grasses which had grown quite tall are cut to have a mossy appearance.

Snows and rains of autumn and winter have given a dingy, dirty look. Paint is doing wonders. Bulldozers and houses that seemed to frown at passersby now smile. Flowers are being planted and shrubbery is being set out. Window and porch boxes are especially attractive.

Only a few cottages remain unopened, and with the close of city schools thousands of persons will hasten to the Chain O' Lakes to spend the hottest months of the year.

Veal-Italian Style

Break half a package of macaroni into small pieces and cook in boiling salted water for 20 minutes. Drain, cover with cold water and let stand while cutting 1 pound veal steak into small cubes. Put 1 tablespoon butter, oil or suet into a frying pan, and when hot add the veal cubes. Brown the meat well, then lower the flame, cover and cook slowly for 1½ hour. While the meat is cooking, drain the macaroni, add 1 cup stock or stock strained tomatoes and simmer gently until the macaroni is thoroughly cooked and tender. Mix 2 tablespoons cheese with 1 cup bread crumbs, add a dash of red pepper and ¼ teaspoon salt. Add ¼ teaspoon salt to the macaroni, and dust ½ teaspoon over the veal cubes. When ready to serve, put the veal in the center of the platter and pour the macaroni around it. Put the crumb mixture in the frying pan in which the veal was cooked, stir over the fire until hot and slightly browned, then place over the top of the meat and macaroni, and serve at once.

French Fried Sweet Potatoes

Peel four sweet potatoes, cut them into slices lengthwise ¼ inch thick. Have ready a kettle of hot fat, about 300 degrees. Put the slices of potato into a frying basket, lower into the hot fat, cook slowly until tender and perfectly brown. Drain on brown paper, dust with salt, and serve.

Add 2 eggs beaten until light, and ½ teaspoon melted butter; with a Dover beater beat the entire mixture for two minutes, turn ½ the batter into the iron pop-over pans, grate cheese over this, then pour the rest of the batter in and grate cheese over the top. ## Steamed Fruit Rolls

Sift together 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt and 3 teaspoons baking powder; rub in 1 tablespoon butter and mix with milk or water, about ¾ cup into a stiff dough. Keeping Out
The Weeds

THE careful farmer cultivates his crops regularly and keeps out the weeds which would rob the growing plants of their nourishment.

The prudent man of affairs saves his money regularly, depositing a certain sum in his savings account.

Why regularly? Because the habit makes it easier for him to keep his surplus beyond the reach of the daily temptations for easy and wasteful spending. Those little temptations, like weeds, tend to destroy success.

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE
LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

Remember last week how Johnny Ape and his father and mother and Billy Monkey were all looking forward to starting to the mountains for a vacation trip? Well, at last they were all seated in Mr. Ape's automobile, ready to start.

Many of Johnny's and Billy's friends had gathered around the car and were shouting goodbye to Johnny and Billy. Molly Gorilla, Johnny's sweetheart, was there and she gave the boys a box of homemade coconut candy.

"Goodbye! Have a good time!" everyone shouted as the automobile started.

"Thank you, we will," Johnny and Billy and Mr. and Mrs. Ape called back.

In a short time the automobile had left the town and the Ape family and Billy Monkey with a trunk and some suitcases on the running boards of the machine were way, way out in the country. Everyone was busy looking at the beautiful trees and flowers.

"I wish we would have a big adventure," Johnny Ape exclaimed. "I wish we would have a thrilling time like I read about in books."

"Oh, pshaw!" Mrs. Ape said. "You don't want anything like that to happen."

"Yes, he does and I do, too," Billy said excitedly.

"Well, I guess nothing is liable to happen," Mr. Ape declared.

After a while there was a bang. "Robbers!" Mrs. Ape said.

"Goodie, goodie! Adventure!" Billy and Johnny shouted.

Mr. Ape laughed and laughed as he told Mrs. Ape not to be frightened and told the boys he was afraid they would be disappointed for a tire had blown out and had made the noise.

Mr. Ape got out to fix the automobile tire and Johnny and Billy decided to take a walk through the woods.

"Don't be gone long," Mrs. Ape called.

"We won't," the boys promised. Billy and Johnny hadn't gone far—at least it didn't seem far to them, hurrying as they ran along—the ground, and then jumping from the limbs of one tree to limbs of another.

—well, anyway, they hadn't gone far when they came to a hut.

"Ooooo! wouldn't it seem funny to live away out in the deep woods by yourself in a little place like this?" Johnny asked Billy.

"Oh, it isn't so funny," said a voice back of the boys. The boys turned, a little frightened. They saw an old, old Mr. Monkey.

"Who are you, boys?" he asked.

"I'm Johnny Ape and this is Billy Monkey and we are with my mother and father and we are taking an automobile trip to the mountains to spend our vacation and we live in Animalville in Animal Land Forest," Johnny said all in one breath.

"Goodness me!" old Mr. Monkey said as he clapped his hands. "How did you ever get away back here? I haven't had anyone pay me a visit in a long time."

"Well, you're getting visited now even if we didn't intend to do it," Billy Monkey said.

"Bless me, yes," old Mr. Monkey said. Then he asked the boys if they were hungry, and when they told him they were he invited them to have some coconut milk and cookies.

While the boys ate (and each ate four cookies and drank three glasses of milk) the man told them how he had lived away from everyone for 4 years—ever since someone had kidnapped his baby daughter and since his wife had been killed in an automobile accident.

"We'll find your daughter for you, Mr. Monkey," Johnny offered.

"Thank you, thank you," the old monkey said with tears in his eyes. "I am afraid I shall never know what became of my Sylvia."

The boys told Mr. Monkey they had to hurry on, but they would come to see him again some day. When Billy and Johnny got back to the automobile, Mrs. Ape was frantic for she thought something terrible had happened to the boys. Johnny and Billy didn't realize they had been gone so long.

"We're sorry," they said, "but we had an adventure and we are going to look for Sylvia, Mr. Monkey's daughter."

INDUSTRIAL HAZARDS SHORTEN LIFE, STATE HEALTH CHIEF SHOWS

Ten Per Cent Difference Is Made Despite Rapid Improvements

Springfield, June 13—In spite of rapid improvement in health conditions the half-million male operatives who man the factories, the mines, the railroads and the other mechanical industries of Illinois, suffer a mortality rate nearly twice that of those not so employed, according to a statement issued here today by Dr. Andy Hall, state health director, who declares that the situation calls for a more adequate and extensive application of industrial hygiene. The higher mortality cuts 7 years from the life expectancy of the 20 year old industrial worker, as compared with others of the same age.

Is Great Problem

"Exposure to industrial hazards causes an excess mortality that reduces the average life span of the worker by fully 10 per cent," Dr. Hall said. "With something like half-a-million male industrial employees at work in Illinois this loss amounts to approximately three and one-half million years for the group. The magnitude of the economic factor thus involved becomes apparent when each individual is regarded as a consumer. The great economic problem in this country today is to find consumers enough to absorb the products of the farm and industry.

"Applying industrial hygiene on a scale sufficient to lower the mortality rate among industrial workers to the level of that which prevails among similar age groups not so employed, would open up a vast outlet for every sort of merchandise from bread and bacon to automobiles and clothing.

"The man who starts into life as an industrial employee at 20 may look forward to 42 years of additional life. His brother of the same age who finds a job in a store, or office, or on the farm or in some other non-hazardous occupation, may look forward to 49 additional years of life.

Decided Improvement

"Up to age of 25 the death rate among the male industrial employees—those at work in factories, mines, transportation and other mechanical occupation—is lower than that among the general population of like age and sex. After age 25 the industrial employees suffer a death rate very noticeably in excess of that which prevails among the general population and this excess reaches 43 per cent among those between 45 and 54 years of age.

"A decided improvement has marked the course of industrial health conditions during the last 20 years, but there is plenty of room for more improvement on an even grander scale. More rigid control over matters of ventilation, disposal of dust and fumes, placement of individuals according to their physical ability, the provision of medical supervision and educating the workers in methods of health preservation, are among the means that will bring longer life and better health to the industrial workers."

Senate Considers Repeal of Origins

Washington, D. C., June 13—Consideration of the Nye resolution introduced to bring about repeal of the National Origins quota laws in the Senate. The resolution seeks to discharge the Senate Immigration committee from further consideration of the proposal to repeal this method of determining how many immigrants each country would be entitled to and the vote on the Nye proposal will be considered as a test of strength. The Committee voted for indefinite postponement of a resolution intended to repeal the provision, and a close vote in the Senate is forecast with each side claiming victory. The clause was written into the immigration act of 1924 but has been postponed year after year until last session when Congress failed to act upon another resolution of postponement. President Hoover has recommended its repeal but the move is opposed by a large group of Senators, who are led by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania.

Ask For Privileges

Restoration of Senate floor privileges to press association representatives withdrawn recently when the United Press published a secret roll call, was urged in a resolution adopted by the standing of Washington newspaper correspondents.

Release Set For July 10

To Use Airplane

An airplane trip over the middle western trunk lines of the inland waterway system, starting at St. Louis, going as far northeast as Yankton, South Dakota, then back to the Twin Cities, south again to Mobile and Peoria and back to Chicago, has been worked out by Congressman William E. Hull, Peoria. Congressman Hull's trip is the first step in the program of congressional leaders looking to the definite declaration of policy by Congress at its winter session that the entire inland waterway system shall be completed within four years; and that enough money shall be appropriated to make possible.

Railroads Reduce Amount

R. H. Ashton, president of American Railway association, stated this week that the railroads of the United States through organized efforts have reduced the amount of claims paid growing out of losses and damages to shipments from $119,833,127 in 1920 to $37,146,813 in 1928, a reduction of 69 per cent. This reduction was made by urging more care in preparing goods for shipment and despite amount double the volume of traffic handled.

Are More Pupils

Figures made public by the United States Bureau of Education indicate a growth in high school attendance that is one of the most striking features in the educational development of the generation. Those figures show that in 1910 the attendance in public high schools was 915,000, but that by 1926 the figures had grown to 3,757,000. It had multiplied itself by more than four in 16 years.

Ambassador Will Refuse

The British Embassy loomed as one of the dry spots of the Capital when it became known that Sir Esme Howard, the British Ambassador, had informed members of the embassy staff that from now on he will refuse to sign requests for shipments of alcoholic liquors. This virtually means that as soon as supplies now on hand in the cellars of the British diplomats are exhausted, the British envoy will have fulfilled the promise he made recently in a letter to James T. Carter, prohibitionist of Lynchburg, Va., that he would surrender the well-recognized diplomatic privilege of importing alcoholic liquors should the United States intimate a desire to cancel the privilege.

Treasury Surplus Expected

With only a few days remaining of the 1929 fiscal year, experts of the Treasury department who have predicted there would be a surplus of at least $100,000,000 in the Government revenues this year are looking to the June income tax payments to double that figure.

FOX LAKE

The Fox Lake Community church had a large audience Wednesday evening, June 5, to see the pictures and hear the lecture given by Rev. Paul Metzger, returned Baptist missionary from Congo, Africa.

It was indeed interesting and instructive especially to the children, of which we had a large attendance, to see and learn how different the little African child is raised and what little they have to do with. Rev. and Mrs. Metzger sang "Joy to the World the Lord is Come" in the native language which amused the children very much. Rev. Metzger spoke of how the different missionaries unite in their work there and of the good that is being accomplished.

He said if they walked from New York to Chicago here in this country it would be published in all the papers, but they walk that far every year in Africa and no one thinks anything about it. That is the only mode of travel through most of that country. They celebrated the 50th anniversary of the founding of that mission some time ago.

Let us hope we will have the pleasure of hearing Rev. Metzger again, he has promised to come back in July, if possible. They are a very busy couple, lecturing afternoons and evenings.

MEET looking fellow he was. Came in the other day and thanked me for selling him Delco-Light. Says he's lots more easy in his mind since his wife got an electric iron and a vacuum sweeper.

"Them old-fashioned irons was awful sorta durable," he says, a feeling a lump on the back of his neck. "And a vacuum sweeper's not near as handy as a broom to sweep a fellow with. Now I wonder if you know where I could get a soft rubber roller pin."

I guess that's one reason for having Delco-Light I never thought of. I don't think I'll be able to use it much at that. What with comfort, convenience and farm profits, I've got all the arguments I can use.

HERE'S HOW EASY IT IS TO DO DISHES ELECTRICALLY . . .

YOU put the dishes in the safe, handy racks of the Conover—plates and saucers and silver go below—glasses, cups and bowls above. Motor-driven, soapy, hot water sprays them for five minutes. It's easy to rinse the dishes two or three times because the tank fills from the hot water faucet and is self-emptying. Washing the dishes of one, two or three meals takes less than 15 minutes and they dry right in the Conover. . . . When not in use, the Conover rolls into a corner, out of the way. ## KENOSHA COUNTY 4-H CLUBS ARE PLANNING TO ATTEND CAMP

Sixty-five Expect To Go To Madison Wednesday Morning.

Kenosha County 4-H club members are again turning eyes towards the State 4-H Club Leadership camp to be held in Madison from June 19 to June 25.

A preliminary check indicates that there will be at least 65 enrolled from Kenosha county. This is the largest delegation from any one county in the history of the camp—a record Kenosha county has held for at least the last three years. Last year's delegation of 55 was about one-fourth of all enrolled.

The purpose of the camp and course is to offer Junior leaders and other older club members an opportunity to attend a state gathering devoted to leadership training, in giving information, seeing the university and its graduation, and learning what clubs are doing in general.

The members will live in the university dormitories and they will eat in the "Commons."

The Kenosha County delegation will make the trip in trucks, meeting at designated places along State Trunk Highway 50. Supper will be the first meal in camp.

The Somers Pike Creek Beavers club will lead the delegation with about 20 members. They will be followed closely by the Bristol Challenge club, the Spring Brook Badgers, the Wilmet Blue Ribbon and others.

THREE FROM ANTIOCH GRADUATE WEDNESDAY MORNING AT U. OF I.

Willard Chinn, Albert Herman, and Cornelia Roberts Listed

Approximately 2,300 degrees are being conferred by the University of Illinois this week, and the recipients come from practically every nook and corner of the state. A few come from other states, but the percentage of these is small.

President Kinley started the process of conferring the degrees at Chicago last Saturday when 400 sheepskins were awarded to those who had completed the required work in the Chicago departments of the university—the College of Medicine, the College of Dentistry, and the School of Pharmacy. The 1,300 odd other degrees were conferred yesterday at the 68th annual commencement.

President Kinley conferred these degrees also.

The twin cities of Urbana-Champaign were thronged Sunday and Wednesday to see the most inspiring sight which the state affords—the slow procession of the hundreds of young sons and daughters in caps and gowns wending their way to the baccalaureate and the commencement exercises. Headed by the university's famous concert band, the candidates for degrees marched in a column four abreast from the library building to the Men's new gymnasium where the exercises were held.

The baccalaureate address was given by President Kinley and the commencement address was given by H. M. Heardsley, a prominent Kansas City attorney and a graduate of the university.

Among those graduating from the Urbana departments of the university are the following from Antioch and this county:

Antioch: Willard C. Chinn, D. S.; Albert Llewellyn Herman, B. S.; and Cornelia M. Roberts, A. B.

Grayslake: Everett Butler Neville, D. S.

Highland Park: William Carnegie Hemmer, B. S.; John McDonald Gifford, B. S.; Allan Neuman Sheehan, L.L.B.; and Clinton Evert Swift, D. S.

Lake Zurich: Alice Marjorie Rockenbach, B. S.

Waukegan: Harry Paul Brager, L.L.B.; Elsie H. Carman, B. S.; Margaret E. Graves, A. B.; Mary A. Price, B. S.; and George K. Whyte, A. B.

OBITUARY

Theodore A. Frazier, son of William Frazier, was born at Hickory, Lake county, Illinois, August 23, 1859. He was married on November 12, 1881, to Nettie G. Paddock, Grass Lake, Illinois. They made their home in Warren township one year, moving from there to Hickory, where they lived until the year of 1920. To this union were born three children.

Upon his retirement the family was sold and Mr. and Mrs. Frazier then moved to Bluff lake, where they resided for five years. They then purchased the present home at Lake Villa.

About a year ago Mr. Frazier's health slowly began to fail. On the evening of May 29, 1929, his condition became serious and he was taken to the Victory Memorial hospital at Waukegan, Illinois. His wife and children were in constant attendance here, hoping for his speedy recovery, but at 10:30 Thursday morning, June 6, he willingly answered his Father's call.

Mr. Frazier's many acts of kindness will long be remembered by his many friends.

He leaves to mourn his loss his widow, Nettie, and their children, Mrs. Charles Griffin, Antioch; Mrs. Bert Logan, Evanston; and Walter I. Frazier, Chicago; also one brother, Thomas W. Frazier, Waukegan.

YOU MAY BE ABLE TO SAVE A LIFE THIS SUMMER BY LEARNING THIS NOW

The lives of many persons lost by drowning during the swimming season could be saved if only some one present at the time of the tragedy had taken a few minutes to familiarize himself with the prone pressure method of artificial respiration. This easily-learned and simple method of life-saving is equally effective in cases of asphyxiation or electric shock. It is approved and taught by the Red Cross, Army, Navy, Bureau of Mines, American Gas Association, National Electric Light Association and by most public utility companies which insist their employees learn this effective method of first aid.—Supplied by Illinois Committee on Public Utility Information.

Follow These Instructions Even If the Patient Appears Dead.

As soon as possible feel with your fingers in the patient's mouth and throat and remove any foreign body (tobacco, false teeth, etc.). If the mouth is tight shut, pay no more attention to it until later. Do not stop to loosen the patient's clothing, but immediately begin actual resuscitation. Every moment is precious. Proceed as follows:

(1) Lay the patient on his belly, one arm extended directly overhead, the other arm bent at elbow and with the face turned outward and resting on hand or forearm, so that the nose and mouth are free for breathing. (See Figure 1.)

(2) Kneel, straddling the patient's thighs, with your knees placed at such a distance from the hip bones as will allow you to assume the position shown in Figure 1.

Place the palms of the hands on the small of the back with fingers resting on the ribs, the little finger just touching the lowest rib, with the thumb and fingers in a natural position, and the tips of the fingers just out of sight. (See Figure 1.)

(3) With arms held straight, swing forward slowly so that the weight of your body is gradually brought to bear upon the patient. The shoulder should be directly over the heel of the hand at the end of the forward swing. (See Figure 2.) Do not bend your elbows. This operation should take about two seconds.

(4) Now immediately swing backward so as to completely remove this pressure. (See Figure 3.)

(5) After two seconds, swing forward again. Thus repeat deliberately twelve to fifteen times a minute the double movement of compression and release, a complete respiration in four or five seconds.

(6) Continue artificial respiration without interruption until natural breathing is restored, or until a physician declares the patient is dead.

(7) As soon as this artificial respiration has been started and while it is being continued, an assistant should loosen any tight clothing about the patient's neck, chest or waist. Keep the patient warm. Do not give any liquids whatever by mouth until the patient is fully conscious.

(8) To avoid strain on the heart when the patient revives, he should be kept lying down and not allowed to stand or sit up. If the doctor has not arrived by the time the patient has revived, he should be given some stimulant, such as one teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a small glass of water, or a hot drink of coffee or tea, etc. The patient should be kept warm.

(9) Resuscitation should be carried on at the nearest possible point to where the patient received his injuries. He should not be moved from this point until he is breathing normally of his own volition and then moved only in a lying position. Should it be necessary, due to extreme weather conditions, etc., to move the patient before he is breathing normally, resuscitation should be carried on during the time that he is being moved.

(10) A brief return of natural respiration is not a certain indication resuscitation should cease. Not infrequently the patient, after a temporary recovery of respiration, stops breathing again. The patient must be watched, and if natural breathing stops, artificial respiration should be resumed at once.

(11) In carrying out resuscitation it may be necessary to change the operator. This change must be made without losing the rhythm of respiration.

Learn every word of the foregoing, and learn it now! Don't wait for an accident. It is too late then.

ment program or adding of expenses. As in former years the largest overdraft was at the county hospital. The last audit showed the overdraft of that institution amounted to $116,656.72. Since then the hospital fund has been transferred into the general fund. Disbursement for this last fiscal year were $87,620.03 while receipts only amounting to $10,530 the report shows.

The report points out that operation cost of the hospital has increased more than ever since the court entered an order excluding pay patients from the institution. It costs the county a fraction over $3 a day per patient according to the audit. The operating expense reported does not include the salary of the county doctor and hospital superintendent.

There was an overdraft of $7,287.88 in the building fund and $17,528.07 in the state's attorney's office the audit shows.

Inheritance Tax Large
Inheritance taxes collected during the fiscal year amounted to nearly two million dollars. Lake county now ranks first in the state outside of Cook county in inheritance tax collections. Taxes collected under this division are $1,710,337.66 the report shows.

Total receipts from the office of Sheriff Lawrence Doolittle for the year amounted to $15,312.79. Disbursements amounted to $11,753.86. The sum of $4,839.35 was received from the government for care of federal prisoners.

Use School Appropriation
Mr. Arthur Shapson, county superintendent of schools, used all of his appropriation of $97,324.21, for operation of county schools according to the report.

At the close of business November 30, 1928 there was a total of $483,947.74 remaining in the treasury. Earnings in the office of State's Attorney A. V. Smith for the year reached $61,346.46. Disbursements amounted to $69,381.03.

Expenditures in the county clerk's office amounted to $22,475.08. Earnings amounted to $40,607.83. Surplus in fees amounted to $17,200.75.

Probate Clerk John Billock received $10,100.82 in fees and paid out $5,914.18.

Receipts in the office of Circuit Clerk L. J. Wilmot amounted to $16,603.37. Disbursements made amounted to $9,945.87.

Fees received by County Recorder L. O. Brockway for the year amounted to $33,748.70. Disbursements amounted to $20,774.09. Earnings of the office and turned over to the treasurer amounted to $6,974.01.

The evening will be featured with an old time dance at Dietz's Rest-Haven Stables at Ivanhoe.

CLOGGED DITCHES RUIN EXPENSIVE DRAINAGE SYSTEM, EXPERT SAYS

Adequate Service Is Not Being Given on Farms
of State

Urbana, June 13—Many expensive tile drainage systems on Illinois farms are not giving adequate service because of neglected drainage ditches into which the tile empties, it is reported by E. W. Lehman, head of the farm mechanics department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. On many farms the flow of water through drainage ditches is cut in half because of resistance from weeds, brush and silt, he said.

"Not only does the growth in the ditches reduce the flow of water, but also collects trash and silt, gradually filling up the channel. A good outlet is the first requirement of a good drainage system. No farmer or group of farmers can afford to neglect the condition of the outlet."

"In the first place, the outlet should be deep enough so that the tile emptying into it will not ordinarily be submerged. It should have plenty of capacity to carry the discharge. To avoid caving, the side walls should not be too steep. A well-designed ditch with reasonable slope should be practically self-cleaning. Growth of weeds and brush and accumulation of silt is due to neglect."

"In some cases the condition of the outlet ditch can be greatly relieved and a satisfactory outlet secured by using explosives in cleaning out the channel. This method is less expensive than by the use of machines and no waste banks are left. As one farmer expressed it, the waste dirt is not piled along the bank of the ditch but is scattered over enough area so that it is not objectionable in farming operations. When explosives are used, the services of someone who knows something about them should be secured in order to avoid accidents and get the best results."

"It is not a good plan to organize a drainage district without taking care of the problem of maintenance."

TROUBLE AT DEEP LAKE SUNDAY NIGHT REGARDED AS CUE

blame, as every merchant is ordered by "the company" to keep the machines filled.

Merchants run the machines on a 50-50 basis, the merchant and the slot machine company each getting half the profits.

Want To Avoid Trouble
Asked the attitudes of county law enforcement authorities toward the machines, Mr. Parks said:

"Authorities in Waukegan are not opposed to the machine if they are run on a strictly business basis as our machines have been run. However, if gangsters would cause trouble in the county, we would probably be ordered to remove our devices."

Mr. Parks said every effort is being made to avoid trouble and if nothing develops the machines will be re-installed.

Gangsters' machines are run on a 33 1/3 per cent profit for the merchant basis, according to Mr. Parks, and seldom last long in a district. If "hoodlums" get their machines in, he declared, and they don't last, the ones removed yesterday will be put back in.

Two Inns Visited
Thirteen slot machines were stolen by seven gunmen who held up the Henning Johnson and the John Jackson roadhouses at Deep Lake at 11:15 o'clock Sunday night.

The Jackson Inn was visited first. There six five-cent machines were taken. Seven were taken at the Johnson roadhouse. The men were driving two Cadillac cars and a Graham Dodge truck.

In both roadhouses the gunmen gave warnings for no one to get near the truck where the slot machines were being taken, for if anyone started toward the trucks there would be shooting to kill, the gunmen said.

Didn't Molest Patrons
Although the office of Sheriff L. A. Donliffe was called immediately after the gunmen had left, no trace of the machine was found.

While in the roadhouses, the gunmen did not molest any of the patrons nor go near the cash registers. Slot machines' hold $125 each, but it is not known how much was in any of these that were stolen.

If old outlets have been neglected it may cost as much to put them into satisfactory condition for taking care of the water flow as it did to build them originally.

COMBINES NEED MORE SKILL AND WATCHING THAN OLD MACHINES

Urbana, June 13—Combines, which have swept into popularity for the harvesting of Illinois grains, take more skill and more constant and alert watching than do the ordinary threshing machines, according to A. L. Young, of the farm mechanics department, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

"Unless already acquainted with his machine, the combine operator should first make a thorough study of its construction and principles of operation. Catalogues, instruction books and other material which the manufacturer can furnish should be studied in detail. Mechanical condition of the machine should be checked to see that it is in first-class running order. The number of days favorable for combine operation will not be too many at best. It is imperative therefore that the machine be in such shape that no valuable time will be lost in making repairs when the outfit should be running."

Increase Dirt, Too

"Cutting should not be started until the grain is ripe and dry enough for safe storage. Few elevators are equipped with dryers by which damp grain can be put in condition. If necessary, a small sample of grain should be taken to the elevator to see whether or not it is dry enough to cut and store. Aside from the other risks, wet grain can not be combined as fast nor with as small losses as can ripe and dry grain."

"Cutting too low in an effort to get all the heads should be guarded against. Too-low cutting will overload the machine with straw and chaff and perhaps green weeds or grass. This increases the machine losses of grain and in all probability will increase the amount of dirt left in the grain."

Must Watch Closely

"Operators should watch their machines carefully at all times to catch such adjustments and changes as seem to be needed to meet varying conditions. The machine should be lubricated when it needs it and according to instructions rather than only when there is nothing else to do. Nuts should be kept tight and close watch kept for signs of undue wear or other conditions that are not right mechanically."

Father's Day

On Sunday, June 16th, we pay tribute to one of the grandest characters on this old earth. No matter who he is, or what he may be, this mild, hard-working old fellow deserves every mark of respect or love we may give him. The real salt of the earth, the man who uncomplainingly shoulders both our burdens and his own, who smiles when the going is hardest—is the finest character God ever created. Let us show him that we appreciate him that we understand him.

MOST EVERYONE'S GUILTY

If a person commits murder and the guilty person is discovered a prison or death sentence is forthcoming. If a man steals, the law says he shall be sent to prison. Hundreds and hundreds of crimes in the face of the law are punishable by prison terms, workhouse sentences, or periods in reformatories. Yet there is one act—the act of gossiping—which is far worse than some of the crimes punishable by jail sentences. Gossip may harm innocent persons, may ruin the characters of more persons, may cause more persons to suffer than any other form of "crime" will do. This is true in Antioch or any other village or city.

And how needless all of the trouble caused may be! Women, of course, are more prone to gossip than men. It seems to be in the makeup of most women, only some have an overdose. Mrs. B. whispers a "secret" to Mrs. C. and Mrs. C. whispers to Mrs. D. and Mrs. D. whispers to Mrs. E. etc.—each woman adding trimmings until the tiny "secret" has become a great story, a story making the principals the "talk of the town."

An even more common way of spreading gossip is at a club meeting. Mrs. Brown will tell something in a semi-confidential way to Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Smith holds up her hands in amazement, exclaiming: "Girls! Girls! Did you hear this about Mamie Jones?" Whereupon Mrs. Brown, finding she has an eager audience tells the story again, only this time it is more glossy than ever! And each woman, as she leaves the party, thinks of whom she can tell the gossip. And 16 different versions start floating about the town. And that's gossip. Harmful. But what a lot of joy some persons get out of spreading it.

OUR OCCUPATION CLAIMS

The reparations conference which has been held during the past several months and the proposal that the United States scale down its claims against Germany for the costs of our army of occupation, have brought this little discussed war debt once more into the limelight.

The United States did not claim general reparations from Germany as did the other nations of the World War. It is true, but at the same time we have two claims growing out of the conflict. The first of these is for damages done during the conflict to American citizens and their property. The second is for the payment of our part of the army of occupation along the Rhine, following the armistice. The armistice agreement provided that Germany was to pay the cost of the army of occupation.

When the matter of reparations payments under the Dawes plan came up the American claims for the army of occupation were given at $225,000,000. A mixed claims commission was agreed to by Germany and the United States to adjudicate the claims of private American citizens growing out of the war.

But the allies have never met with any great degree of enthusiasm our claim for reparations. Mr. Kellogg, ambassador to Great Britain, when the matter came up, set out the American claim and when his contentious were done by the British government made the following reply which well sums up the American viewpoint: "By reason of its relation to the war the United States certainly as a matter of justice, is entitled to receive payment of its claims pari passu with the other powers associated in the common victory. By its voluntary action in not pressing large categories of claims, general reparations, my government has greatly limited, to the benefit of the allied powers, the extent of its participation in Germany's payments. My government is unable to conceive that there would be any disposition on the part of his majesty's government to contest the equity of its participation in such payments to the cover the limited classes of claims for which the United States seeks recovery."

It will be seen, therefore, that in this as well as in other matter involving our foreign relations there is a distinct American viewpoint and a distinct European viewpoint. In any diplomatic negotiations conducted by the League, it is easy to see that it would be Uncle Sam against the rest of the world.

So far as the costs of the army of occupation are concerned it is only fair to state that up to this time France and Great Britain have received about ninety per cent of their costs of occupation while the United States has received, but a scant thirty per cent.

Uncle Sam may be the shylock of the world as some of our European brethren claim, but he is certainly not much good at collecting.

Pineapple juice was served as the drink at an official banquet in Mexico the other day. No doubt it was followed by liberal portions of banana oil when the after dinner speakers got to spouting.

Our idea of an ideal wife is one who excuses her husband's staying out half the night with the thought that if he had gone to bed early he might have kept the family awake snoring.

June is the month of marriages but one of our cynical bachelor friends says that to be appropriate to the occasion, marriages should be pulled off on April 1st.

The trouble with so many of our family trees is that if you examine them closely enough you will find they are full of saps.

If anybody has to go to war again we hope the first fellow conscripted is the one who blows his horn behind us when we are held up by the traffic and can't move.

Nowadays the poor pedestrian spends his time dodging bumpers and fenders but doubtless ten years hence when air traffic gets fully developed he will spend at least part of his time dodging showers of empty bottles.

The newest dance in New York is called the "Breakaway" and it might be a good idea to introduce it into Congress.

Antioch Milling Company ANTIOCH, ILLINOIS

In the winter everyone in Antioch speaks to everyone else. Going down the street one nods or waves to each passerby. Since the summer has opened, however, things are different. It's quite perplexing to know just whether to speak or not to speak. Slight acquaintances may feel slighted or highbrowed. Strangers may think the speaker is "fresh." Pray tell, what is one to do?

C. E. Waldo, owner of the Antioch hotel, seems to be jack of all trades. He's manager, at times he's desk clerk, again he waters the lawn, cultivates the earth around the tulips, the iris, and other flowers, and sometimes he trims the grass around the trees, and—why mention more?

Some of the city persons who go to the lakes for the summer evidently intend to work as well as play. At least one woman is going to do a little sewing, for Sunday an automobile went by with a sewing machine strapped in front of the radiator and a boat was strapped over the top of the car.

Yesterday on the sidewalk in front of the Antioch fire engine house was an orange object—an object about the size of a quarter, only irregular in shape. Two sparrows spied the object at the same time and each made a dive for it. Result: a fight. After a minute or two of pecking and clawing, one of the birds admitted defeat and flew away. The winner hastened to the object with dreams of a delicious meal. To his dismay, however, he discovered that the orange object was only a piece of stone or a chip off a brick. He could do nothing with it. The sparrows aren't much different from human beings who are forever quarreling, spitting, fighting, and quibbling over nothing, are they?

Mrs. George Garland advertised in THE ANTIOCH NEWS classified columns that she had some furniture to sell. The ad came out one Thursday not long ago. Friday morning Mrs. Garland had intended to clean her house, but persons began to call at the door and by phone—everybody wanting furniture. When the first caller arrived, Mrs. Garland was starting to turn on the vacuum cleaner. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the cleaner hadn't been touched, but the furniture was virtually all sold. Fifty cents for an ad—and look what it did. Moral: If you have something to sell and advertise, take the day off to answer phone calls and the door bell.

No need to suffer with the heat. That sentence sounds like the beginning of an advertisement, doesn't it? But this isn't advertising any such thing as "Cool-Off Complexion Cream"

Johnson, Main street, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson haven't been the least bit selfish in placing them where they can be of most pleasure to everyone who happens by. And there are a great many comments, too, from strangers and customers who notice the flowers.

County Superintendent Ihlenfeldt presented her with a leather brief case. Mary Scheld ranked third highest in a class of 145 graduates in the county.

Picnics Are Held
Various clubs and club picnics have been held during the last week. On Wednesday the members of the Hi-Y enjoyed a picnic at the Fox River County park. The feature of the picnic was an indoor game in which the senior members defeated the remaining members 6-7. The battles for the seniors were Buxton and Bloss, and for the losers, Weigel and Schurr. The losers featured with three home runs, one each by Bernhoff, Weigel, and Schurr and were leading 7-4 at the beginning of the ninth inning, but a few hits coupled with two walks tied the score. The seniors scored one run in the twelfth inning to break the tie and win the game.

The freshmen held their picnic Thursday at Paddeco's Lake. After enjoying a picnic dinner, the 19 present motored to Kenosha to attend a show. The picnic was in charge of faculty members, Miss Langhus and Mr. Weigel. The sophomores held their picnic at the Fox River County park Friday. The picnic was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. M. Schurr.

The Junior class motored to Milwaukee Monday for dinner and a show instead of the customary picnic. Seven Juniors made the trip which was supervised by Mr. Weigel.

SHELL MOTOR OIL WEEK
June 16-22, Inclusive
"Ask the Shell Man"

Here's the way to whip carbon

YOU have been fighting carbon ever since you drove your first car. You have probably come to accept carbon as a necessary evil . . . to consider frequent carbon removal and valve grinding jobs as unavoidable.

But thousands of owners of automobiles don't think so. They have found a way to get rid of the carbon complex. They have discovered that they can whip carbon with Shell Motor Oil.

Shell Motor Oil forms very little carbon. And what there is, is soot-like, fluffy and non-fouling. It readily blows out with the exhaust gases.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil declare that this soft, sooty carbon does not foul spark plugs, choke ignition or pile up on piston heads. They find that it does not bake on valve seats or get in around piston rings, causing loss of power. They are not bothered by the danger of abrasive carbon particles in the crankcase with the lubricating oil.

Shell Motor Oil has been developed expressly for the highest type of motor lubricating service. It is particularly well adapted to the high speed and small clearances of the modern high-compression engine.

Besides assuring little carbon and non-fouling carbon, Shell Motor Oil also provides the other two essentials of a modern motor lubricant—ideal body at all operating temperatures, and low pour point.

Made only from carefully selected crude rich in natural lubricating qualities—the richest we can find. And refined by Shell's exclusive, low-temperature process, which assures perfect body, stamina and heat-resisting power.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL—and let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide . . . You will always find courteous salesmen at the familiar yellow and red service stations. Convenient everywhere.

To the man who asks for oil by name, we say: "Try Shell for 30 days!"

To the man who asks for oil by name, knows that there is a difference in oils. It won't be difficult for him to notice the quicker pickup, greater power and better all-around performance of a automobile with Shell in the crankcase.

Shell 400 "Extra Dry" Gasolene means "More Power to You". It costs more, but it does more.

PEARCE AND BALLARD WILL STAGE WINDUP AT PALACE FRIDAY

Zahnales and Davis Form Other Half of Headliner on Card

Crowds at the Antioch Palace have been increasing each Friday night as hundreds of fans gather to see the popular amateur boxing shows.

Tomorrow night Twain Pearce, Wisconsin state champion, and Charles Ballard, A. A. U. champion, will stage one of the headliners, and Jackie Zahnales, Tribune Golden Glove winner, will be on hand for the other half of the big double windup.

Other bouts include: Tommy Wilkins vs. Frankie Hughes; Buddy Beyer vs. Joe Anderson; Bobby Johnson vs. Tex Penny; Ray Davis vs. Willard Munsell; and Roy Mullens vs. Harold Brown.

Tramblle Is Winner
The windup last Friday night was between Rockford's Ray Tramblle and Lee Tut, Chicago. Four rounds had been fought before the judges declared Tramblle winner. Tut is noted for his cleverness and for his hard hitting, but Tramblle did some of the prettiest work ever. In the first two rounds Tut seemed to be the gainer, but in the third Tramblle had a wide margin. In the fourth period Tramblle displayed some left hooks and right crosses that clinched for him the decision. The crowd seemed to think that the first two rounds were so clearly Tut's that he should have been declared victorious at the end of the third, but judges didn't agree.

Stage a Thriller

Frankie Hughes, Kenosha, was defeated in a decisive manner by Lloyd Harber, Pinkie Mitchell's gym. It's been a long time since Hughes had suffered such a defeat. He had been seriously ill for two weeks, however. In the first round Harber handled Hughes as though the latter were a rag doll. In the second round Hughes was taking all he could stand without going to the mat. In the third Harber wasn't so rough, but every minute there was plenty of action and the bout was a good one.

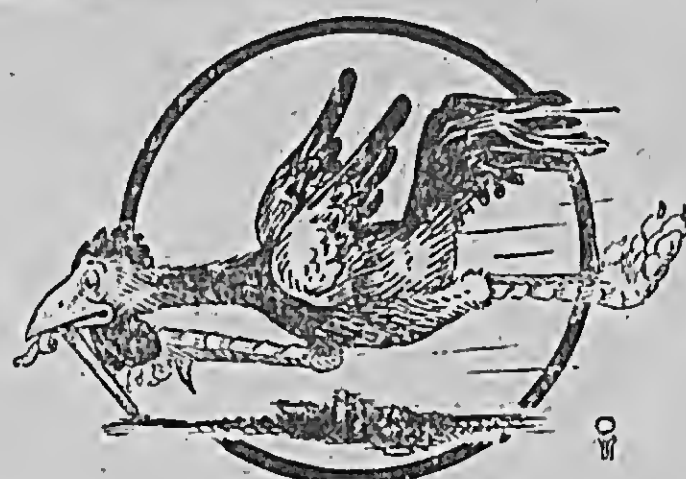

Slugging his way to victory, Kid Bruno, Rockford, won in three rounds over Willard Munsell of the Mitchell gym. Bruno landed quite a few punches on the button. Munsell is a boxer—a better boxer than Bruno, but Bruno went after his opponent with a heavy two-fisted attack which had it all over the Milwaukee man's hard straight left.

Conn Looks Better
Don Conn, Waukegan, was in better form last week than he has been for some time. Otherwise he could not have won over Fred Kallvoda, Mitchellite. Right acrosses of Conn's are becoming famous and he used them to best advantage in the three rounds of battling.

Four rounds were needed for Jack Harris, Rockford, to win over Frank Hagen, Milwaukee. These boys were evenly matched and both did some heavy slugging. It was Harris' extra efforts in the fourth that won.

The only kayo on the card was when Charlie Nogoe, of the Mitchell gym, fought Jimmy Ryan, Chicago. Nogoe knocked his opponent all over the place for one round, then early in the second came the K. O. Nogoe was just too much for the Chicagoan.

BY MAE TINEE

Good morning! "In Old Arizona" is one grand movie! Remarkable! I'll say so! And it's remarkable in more ways than that, too. It's the first all talker to be filmed almost entirely out of doors. Then it offers you one of the most brilliant characterizations of the era by a man who was, up to this time, only one of many personable leading men—and, rumor has it, just about through as far as contracts were concerned when somehow or other Fate dumped the role of the Cisco Kid into his lap. What he has done with his big opportunity will go down in screen history as one of the Great Screen Triumphs. He fascinates you so that you're afraid to wink or breathe for fear you'll miss something. He is, from now on, The Great Warner Baxter!

Then along comes somebody named Dorothy Burgess to burn you up! Who is she? Don't let know. Never heard of her before. Don't let that disturb you. She's got "it" of Dolores Del Rio, Lupe Velez, Clara Bow and a dozen other pulse-quickeners combined. She is The Cisco Kid's faithless sweetheart—and you'll never forget her.

The picture is an adaptation of a story by O. Henry. It's filmed amidst breathtaking surroundings. It's permeated with action and is tense with suspense. Its love scenes are frank and fervid; its flashes of humor, droll; its "atmosphere" engrossing; its ending a poignant, artistic O. Henry finish.

The supporting cast, headed by Edmund Lowe, who gives a great performance as a hard-boiled, lady killing, Bowery-bred soldier, out for the head of The Cisco Kid—and the heart of the Kid's treacherous Tonita—is a dandy. Direction, photography, synchronization, scenery are superb throughout.

If you're interested—I'm getting a real kick from handing four stars to "In Old Arizona." See you tomorrow.
